University Agency of Francophonie (AUF) is open the call for the konkurs “LabCitoyen”, which is launching at the French Institute. This contest is open for students between 18 and 25 years with “LabCitoyen” University Agency of Francophonie (AUF) is launching at the French Institute. This contest is open for students between 18 and 25 years with a good command of French (B1 level). The reward is quite interesting since 2 young Serbian will be offered a 10-days-trip to Paris to discuss on human rights connected to environment and climate change.
They have until 15 April to send to Charlene Jouve, mailto: charlene.jouve@institutfrancais.rs , an article on the topic.

Konkurs LabCitoyen 2015 .doc

A brief description of the University Agency of Francophonie (AUF):
The main objectives of the Agency are to promote sciences in French language, to strengthen network between universities and scientists in the region (Central and Oriental Europe) and to share knowledge. All sciences are concerned (social sciences, physics, chemistry, mathematics, etc). All year long the Agency is offering some financial support to professors, researchers, administrative staff and more and more for students in the field of professional mobility, organisation of symposium, capacity building …
Please find here all open calls available for the universities member of AUF: http://www.auf.org /bureau-europe-centrale-et-orientale/appel-doffres-regional/

AUF organizacija naucnog skupa

AUF master

ATIP Avenir