

ISMCK wants to strength the international network for scientific collaboration and to link different nations and cultures as well. Our congress offers young scientists to share the results of their work from the fields of medicine, public health, dentistry, pharmacology and biomedical sciences. Participants can present their research projects and to exchange ideas on topics through oral or poster presentations in categories: basic science, clinical medicine, dentistry, pharmacology, public health and PhD students' work. As the congress is mainly for students the age of active participants and co-authors cannot exceed 35 years. Moreover, there is possibility to attend various workshops and trainings on special skills. In the evenings we are preparing social programme which will allow all participants to get to know our country and nationality.

Registration is opened from 15th December 2012 on www.ismck.com.

Deadline for abstracts submission is 1st March 2013.
